

I learned from him working hard

Sergio Marchi

Former Minister of International Trade of Canada

When we have a personality with the unique and diverse abilities as Talal Abu-Ghazaleh, it is a source of pride not only for its success in work, but also for being an Arab person and a leader in the field of professional services and business.

I do not exaggerate his description as a leader and pioneer. Abu-Ghazaleh's character was able by his struggle, strong faith and unique determination to make his institution a prestigious pyramid cherished by the entire Arab region.

Talal Abu-Ghazaleh Organization (TAG-Org) operates under the leadership of this man, who works tirelessly throughout the day, with a high ability to withstand, in order to keep his Group at the forefront.

Talal Abu-Ghazaleh always works to extend the services of his Group to other regions around the world, and does not stop at a certain point or area, with his permanent slogan being "continuous and orderly work" to achieve development and progress in all areas and domains, so that his Group remains at the forefront led by this personality. I reiterate my pride in knowing him and cherish his friendship, which has given me much as I learn from him the value of sincere and hard work for the benefit of the nation.