University of Liverpool

With the mission of making

“world-class education accessible to everyone, everywhere”,

UNIVERSITY OF LIVERPOOL

ONLINE
PROGRAMMES

Talal Abu-Ghazaleh International University (TAGI-UNI) partners with prestigious institutions to create a new model for distance learning. As a global educational alliance, TAGI-UNI works with leading educational institutions to offer jointly administered, accessible, and accredited certification and degree programs to students around the world.

In 2013, TAGI-UNI signed a partnership agreement with Laureate Online Education, which manages the University of Liverpool’s online programs.

The University of Liverpool was founded in 1881, it operates from Liverpool, as well as from a new campus in the heart of London, UK.

Since 2000, the University and Laureate Online Education have worked together to deliver postgraduate education - fully online - to working professionals across the globe, enabling them to improve their career and make an impact in their communities. During this time, the University has grown to become one of Europe’s largest providers of 100% online postgraduate degrees.

Today, more than 10,500 online students from over 160 countries are studying for masters, doctorates or one-year postgraduate certificates with the University of Liverpool with over 8,000 having already graduated, joining the University’s thriving international alumni network of 195,000.

The University of Liverpool offers over 30 postgraduate degree programs that are accessible fully online. They are designed for working professionals who want to advance by earning a degree directly from a world-class university without having to travel, leave home or interrupt their career.

All programs - postgraduate certificates, masters and doctorates - are accessible 100% online, allowing you to study from where you are, alongside your job.

The University offers online programs that are relevant for careers in Management (including an online MBA), IT, Health, Psychology, Law, and Education.

One of Europe's largest providers of fully online postgraduate degree programs, the University of Liverpool works in partnership with online education experts Laureate Online Education, part of the Laureate International Universities global network of higher education institutions. Laureate delivers and administers the programs. All final degrees are awarded directly from the University of Liverpool.

Your degree will have the same validity and credibility as the equivalent degree awarded to a graduate who studied on campus. This applies whether you choose an online postgraduate certificate, masters or doctoral program.

You can have confidence in the University of Liverpool's quality and standards - as confirmed by the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education (QAA) - the organization that monitors and advises on quality and standards in UK higher education - in its 2015 review.

Study wherever you are

Study from wherever you are. Let the University of Liverpool come to you. All the University's online degree programs are available from start to finish online. You can access the virtual classroom from your home, from your office, while travelling - wherever and whenever you have an internet connection.
