Abu-Ghazaleh Intellectual Property Earns MIP’s ‘Middle East IP Firm of the Year’ for 2020

LONDON – Abu-Ghazaleh Intellectual Property (AGIP) is proud to announce that it has been announced as the ‘Middle East IP Firm of the Year’ at the Managing Intellectual Property (MIP) awards ceremony held in London, March 5, 2020. The 15th annual IP awards ceremony celebrate firms with outstanding IP practices over the past year, whether in prosecution, litigation, licensing or other works. They mark the culmination of MIP’s five month-long annual world survey of the world’s leading IP firms.

This year’s success marks the eleventh time that AGIP has been named Firm of the Year by Managing Intellectual Property (MIP), as a distinguished IP practitioner that provides top quality services all over the world.

Mr. Nemer Shibly, AGIP Lebanon Office Executive Director, accepted the award on behalf of AGIP saying: “We are very proud to be recognized for the 11th year. This recognition proves the trust international IP community bestows upon AGIP, which represents a motivation for us to provide best competitive services to our valued clients globally.” Managing Intellectual Property, one of the world’s most notable IP publications, with more than 8,000 readers across the globe, selected the winners based on extensive research and interviews with practitioners worldwide.

Over 50 Domain Operators in China Ask ICANN for Immediate Fee Waivers Due to Impact from Coronavirus

Over 50 domain name registries and registrars in China have sent a joint letter to ICANN requesting immediate consideration to remove the 2020 fees. The group says contracted parties in China, including staff, suppliers, and business counterparts, are all negatively impacted by the COVID-19 outbreak on a much greater scale than in other countries and regions combined since January 2020. The letter adds: “Many of the staff members have been restrained from performing sales and support functions at the level they are required to. There are significant delays in collections, payments, and wire transfers. While we expect that the scale of 2019-nCoV could not go greater, the business growth estimate in 2020 has been jeopardized, and the time of recovery can be very long.” In late January, ICANN implemented a unilateral travel ban on all flights to and from China as part of precautionary measures.

Go Here to Help Fight Against Coronavirus Abuse

A coalition of over 1,000 security experts, domain name providers and others have got together to help coordinate efforts to combat abusive coronavirus-related domains.

A workspace on the collaboration platform Slack has been growing steadily since it was created, enabling technology professionals to exchange information about the alarming number of sites currently trying to take advantage of the pandemic.

There's a channel devoted to malicious domains, which is being used to share statistical data and lists of bad and good coronavirus-related domains, among other things.

Across the workspace, a broad cross-section of interested parties is represented. Current members appear to come from security companies, governments, law enforcement, registries, registrars, ICANN, healthcare providers, and others.

It seems like a pretty good way for the technical members of the domain name industry to keep track of what's going on during the current crisis, potentially helping them to put a stop to threats using domains they manage as they emerge.
