Talal Abu-Ghazaleh International University

TAGI-UNI is the people's gateway to the world's best education, promoting global citizenship and individual responsibility. Under its mission "to make accredited educational programs accessible to everyone, everywhere", TAGI-UNI uses partnerships - comprised of a network of universities, non-government organizations, training institutions, and language schools - as its modus operandi to deliver comprehensive education to a global student body. Thus, digital education provided by international institutions compels individuals to understand their interdependence and their interconnected roles in the modern world.

With its vision of "world-class education as a human right", Talal Abu-Ghazaleh University seeks to democratize education through a system of channels to open students' dialogue with one another, therefore putting the quality of interaction in their hands. TAGI-UNI makes it possible for the transforming societies to embrace new concepts emerging from the ground up, given that accessibility to education is paramount for maximizing these societies' potential.

Talal Abu-Ghazaleh University provides boundless world-class higher education across the globe to learners who may be unable to afford the costs of travel. All programs offered are of the highest caliber and relevant to global job market needs.

■ Abu-Ghazaleh and UNESCO Co-Chair 'Innovation Standards in Education in the Arab Countries' Workshop

AMMAN - The Arab Organization for Quality Assurance in Education (AROQA), in cooperation with the Regional Center for Quality and Excellence in Education (RCQE) – UNESCO, organized a workshop entitled ‘Innovation Standards and Indicators in Education in the Arab Countries’, co-chaired by HE Dr. Talal Abu-Ghazaleh, chairman of AROQA, and Dr. Abdulrahman Almedaries, RCQE Director General.

The workshop was virtually held with the participation of a host of experts and researchers specialized in quality and innovation from the Arab countries with the aim of coming up with ideas, through brainstorming, to be formulated into standards and indicators by a specialized technical committee for submission to the League of Arab states as proposed unified standards for the benefit of all Arab states.

During the event, Dr. Abu-Ghazaleh commended cooperation between AROQA and the Center, highly emphasizing the importance of innovation in education in light of the current challenges the education sector globally faces. He affirmed the need to unify efforts to formulate unified standards for innovation to empower students all over the Arab region.

Dr. Abu-Ghazaleh, who led the United Nations Information and Communication Technologies Task Force (UN ICT TF), then, chaired the Global Alliance for ICT and Development, stated that “we are witnessing one of the most influential transformations in human history: The Fourth Industrial Revolution that is based on Information Technology and characterized by the fusion of technologies in all domains”.

He also noted that the world will be led by Artificial Intelligence (AI), and its applications will help human beings develop and produce a generation of innovators and inventors.

Dr. Abu-Ghazaleh continued to underline the importance of shifting to learning instead of teaching, saying that AROQA, under the honorary chairmanship of the League of Arab States, will make changes to its own regulations and objectives with the aim of offering its services in quality education for the purpose of innovation, and it will monitor the progress of implementation of quality in education.

For his part, Almedaries extended his gratitude and appreciation to Dr. Abu-Ghazaleh for his dedication and support to the education sector in the Arab world, pointing out that the workshop came by virtue of the previously signed agreement between the RCQE -UNESCO and AROQA, and the joint efforts to boost quality and innovation in education in the Arab countries, and to review the best practices in this regard to be submitted to the decision makers within the education process.

He also expressed the hope to conclude an agreement to introduce an education that is based on innovation, enhance competitiveness of student learning outcomes, achieve economic prosperity, and create innovative models to be followed, in order to build a more prosperous future for the Arab countries.

Moreover, Almedaries talked about the need to set up new systems in education to face challenges and respond to the new good quality in education, calling for more concentration on the "key drivers for education transformation and sustainable recovery solutions".

Meanwhile, participants in the workshop discussed innovation standards including governance and a welcoming environment that sustains freedom, productivity and support.

They concluded by expressing gratitude to AROQA and the RCQE - UNESCO for organizing the workshop, and reviewed case studies and points of view related to innovation and creativity as a preliminary steps toward formulating quality standards.

‘Abu-Ghazaleh University College for Innovation’ Opens Registration for the Second Semester 2020/2021

AMMAN - Talal Abu-Ghazaleh University College for Innovation (TAGUCI) announced that registration for the Master’s degree in Business Administration (MBA) is now open for the second semester 2020/2021.

TAGUCI, a university college that offers MBA Master’s degree in the fields of Innovative Leadership and Entrepreneurship, Data Analytics, Digital Marketing and Human Resources Management, is the only college of its kind in the world that is founded on the concept of creativity and innovation; it graduates inventors rather than job seekers.

Furthermore, TAGUCI offers 75% scholarships to Palestinian refugees in Jordan and Lebanon, as well as 60% scholarships to those with ‘Outstanding and Excellent’ grades and 50% for those with ‘Very Good’ and ‘Good’ grades in their Bachelor's degrees from Jordan and all over the Arab world.

HE Dr. Talal Abu-Ghazaleh, TAGUCI chairman, stressed that economic strength is primarily based on creativity and innovation, which led him to establish the University College as a material evidence of his vision and belief in the youth and their ability to support local and global economy, pointing

■ For disseminating quality education services Abu-Ghazaleh Signs MoU with the Association of Arab Universities

AMMAN - A Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) has just been signed by HE Dr. Talal Abu-Ghazaleh, chairman of the Arab Organization for Quality Assurance in Education (AROQA), and Dr. Amr Ezzat Salama, Secretary General of the Association of Arab Universities (AArU); to cooperate in disseminating the quality education activities, university accreditation and capacity-building services.

Dr. Abu-Ghazaleh expressed his pleasure for the cooperation agreement with the Association, pointing out that AROQA has updated its accreditation standards for educational institutions in accordance with the international standards, requirements of Digital Knowledge Revolution and scientific research; as well as for enhancing university students' professional capacities to become qualified teachers with digital learning skills.

Dr. Abu-Ghazaleh, chairman of the Arab States Research and Education Network (ASREN) --that works under the league of the League of the Arab States—further announced that ASREN, in collaboration with the European Union, has established a special Internet line for scientific research to assist researchers, academics and students' access to the global Research and Education (R&E) network, as well as to link the educational and research institutions with research centers around the world.

He also affirmed that Talal Abu-Ghazaleh

Global (TAG.Global) is ready to put all its resources and expertise at the service of the AArU, expressing his hope that the MoU will be a good starting point for a new era of cooperation in various activities between both parties.

For his part, Dr. Salama stated that the Association seeks through cooperation with AROQA to achieve its goals in promoting quality university education to face the current challenges the world is experiencing in the education sector, praising Dr. Abu-Ghazaleh's role and efforts in improving the quality of education in general with a special focus on the Arab region through 'AROQA' and other organizations and firms, His Excellency Dr. Abu Ghazaleh chairs at TAG.Global.

The MoU provides for cooperation in the field of quality services by organizing conferences, seminars and workshops. It also strives to elevate the educational level at the Arab universities to meet the international requirements, by holding various programs and training courses in order to disseminate quality culture and support their quality assurance centers; as well as by offering consulting services related to educational quality at Arab universities.

In the field of accreditation, the two parties agreed on collaborating to set up the accreditation standards of universities in the Arab countries that will be based on "innovation, creativity, utilization of technology in remote learning, digital learning, educational research, and quality of learning and education. That is in addition to jointly holding training courses, building capacities and other related fields.
